Templum Integrates with InteliClear to Extend Clearing & Settlement Services to Private Market Alternative Investments

The integration with Templum enables InteliClear to extend its clearing and settlement solutions to alternative asset managers for the first time.

NEW YORK, September 17th, 2024 – Templum, the pre-eminent private markets infrastructure provider, is pleased to announce a partnership with leading post-trade solutions supplier, InteliClear. The alliance brings sought-after private market alternative investment opportunities available in the Templum One ecosystem to InteliClear's present and future fintech-based broker-dealer clients, marking the first time that InteliClear is making its Post Trade Solutions (PTS) available for managers of alternative assets.

Through the integration with Templum, InteliClear's clients can now access alternatives and benefit from the same clearing and settlement systems that they use for their mainstream investments.

"We are thrilled that the private market alternative assets available on the Templum One network will now be supported by InteliClear's industry-leading post-trade solutions," says Chris Pallotta, CEO of Templum. "By expanding the range of assets that InteliClear supports to include alternative investments available through Templum One, InteliClear is providing much needed clearing and settlement services to a market segment that is experiencing exponential growth."

"We are excited to expand the range of InteliClear's supported asset classes to include alternative asset managers on the Templum One ecosystem," says John Paul DeVito, Co-Founder and Director of Sales and Marketing at InteliClear. "Templum, as a leader in providing private market infrastructure, enables us to meet the evolving needs of our present and future fintech-based broker-dealer clients, who are increasingly seeking exposure to alternative assets."

As investors seek access to alternatives at unprecedented levels, Templum' s scalable infrastructure solutions are transforming access, processes and investment choice in private market alternative investments.

The Templum Applications Suite provides wealth managers with essential solutions to automate back office and operational processes and integrate siloed operations, enabling them to better service their investors.

Templum Marketplace Solutions helps firms quickly set up branded investment platforms with a fully automated experience across the entire investment lifecycle from investor onboarding to primary issuance to secondary trading.

Templum One is an innovative global ecosystem that connects investors with many of the world's most sought-after private assets, enabling them to curate unique investment opportunities for their end clients.

Designed for the securities brokerage industry, InteliClear's PTS provide real-time, turnkey and customized software for front-, middle- and back-office operations within a single, fully integrated system. Through the partnership with Templum, InteliClear is adding support for alternative assets to its multicurrency clearance and settlement network.

The addition of private market alternatives through Templum builds on InteliClear's existing support for equities, options, fixed income, mutual funds, money market products and digital/crypto assets.

About InteliClear

InteliClear is a cutting-edge, 21st-century post-trade processing system, designed to be as versatile and reliable as the market participants it serves in today's dynamic global trading, clearing, settlement, and custody environment. InteliClear's Post Trade Solutions (PTS) offers real-time, turn-key software that is fully customizable to meet the needs of front, middle, and back-office operations within a single, seamlessly integrated platform. PTS supports a wide range of assets, including equities, options, fixed income, mutual funds, money market products, digital assets, cryptocurrencies, and alternative investments, all within a multicurrency clearance and settlement network. Built on an optimized relational database, PTS is engineered for real-time, high-volume, multicurrency functionality. This design ensures that all data elements are updated instantly at the point of transaction, enhancing internal risk monitoring and delivering faster, more accurate interfacing with other systems.
